The Suffolk County Ambulance Chief's Association was formed in 1980 and is comprised of the chief officers and ex-chiefs of the volunteer ambulance companies serving the region.

Our mission includes promoting the welfare of volunteer ambulance services, to act as the unified voice in matters pertaining to the volunteer ambulance services in the county, help foster communication and cooperation among member corps and with official County of Suffolk agencies pertaining to volunteer ambulance service, and to encourage and assist in the standardization of equipment and training where such would benefit the volunteer ambulance service.

The SCACA is pro-active in lobbying for laws and legislation which benefits the volunteer ambulance service.
